About the Event:

The Aeronautical Engineering department Celebrated Space Week and organized a session on Space and Entrepreneurship on 7th October 2024. The program was started at 10.30 am with the welcome speech and introduction about the resource person by Dr.G.Ramanan, HOD, AE Department. The resource person highlighted that Space entrepreneurs represent your average aspiring new business owner; but rather than working in industries like hospitality, marketing, or other conventional/normal industries, they work in the commercial space community. He mentioned that A 'Space Mission' involves human space flight or robotic missions conducted by space agencies like NASA and ESA to explore planetary bodies, study their geologic history, chemical composition, and potential for life.. The resource person was honored by the HOD and Student participants expressed their gratitude that the program was highly informative and interesting. Finally, the session ended with the vote of thanks.
